Length: aprox. 50km

From St. Johann in Tirol via Oberhofen along the sports airport to the farmhouses at Winkl-Sonnseite – after a bit up and downhill you will arrive Fieberbrunn. Starting there you have 2 possibilities to reach St. Jakob in Haus. The steeper and longer path runs via Obwall straight to the center. After a change of the side you will arrive at the chair lift of the Buchensteinwand and further through the idyllic hamlets Flecken and Schwendt (both part of the municipality St. Ulrich am Pillersee). At the village center of Straß you cross the Pillersee ordinary road, stay a short part on the opposite side and turn right at the sports shop Günther. You will reach the center of St. Ulrich along the beautiful Pillersee (lake).

Along the right shore you cycle along a sometimes strong frequented path by strollers in direction St. Adolari (famous pilgrimage church). Here it's necessary to cross the Street. On the left side you will get to the wild-romantic Öfen Gorge. It's famous for its unique stone formation. From there you will reach the Pillersee Road to the center of Waidring. Above the Bottom station of the cable car Steinplatte you follow the path to the underpass for the cycle path in direction Erpfendorf. On this one you will come to Enthgries, there you change after an other underpass on the left side. From there you either cycle straight to the embankment of the Grossache in direction Kirchdorf or you stay on the same side and use another underpass. From the center of Kirchdorf you go on the left side of the river until you have to cross the road again at Moosen. From there it's already the return to the village center of St. Johann in Tirol.
